Would you please create a rule or statute that REQUIRES ALL HOA's to ALLOW ham radio antennas on the residential properties? Most HOA's do not allow the residents to erect ham radio antennas on their own personal land. (Isn't this rule a violation of private property rights?) Ham Radio Operators are a critically important resource in emergency communications---IF our equipment and necessary antennas are erected PRIOR to the onset of an emergency. This HOA rule is for residential appearance and aesthetics only, and it endangers the general population from coast to coast in the event of an actual emergency.
Thank you.
